Annunciation BVM and St. Hilary Parishes are a community of Catholics under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. We proclaim the Good News of Jesus Christ through worship, service and fellowship, in cooperation with the Bishop of Thunder Bay, in order to bring forth the values of the Kingdom of God.

Sickness and death have a way of shearing through the veneer of our self-importance and social status. These things touch us at our most vulnerable point. Sickness and death strip us of our illusions and remind us that, no matter how important we are in the eyes of others, we are still human—still very limited and transient citizens here on earth.

Notice the brutal directness used by those telling Jairus about his daughter's death—you've no need to trouble the Master any more, she's dead. They are like the apostles in the boat, who doubt Jesus' ability to calm the storm.

With all its imperfections, sins, blemishes, and warts, the Church of Jesus Christ is the intended healer of the world's wounds. Christians are called to be compassionate, wounded healers. This story makes visible for us three of our basic beliefs as disciples of Jesus.

First, that the Son of God, the Lord is one with us, he knows 'from the inside our fears' and anxieties, our needs, our nature. God, for us Christians, is not thought of as some far-off energy or power, he has come close to us in a human individual: Jesus.

We can paraphrase the creed like this:

- For us human beings and our health and well-being
- he has come down from heaven,
- and by the power of the holy Spirit has become a man
- who was named Jesus.

Mark holds up both Jairus and the unnamed woman in today's Gospel as models of faith. The message of the two healings is clear: "Do not be afraid; have faith." The chronically ill woman is so convinced that Jesus not only can help her but will help her that she fights her way through the pushing and shoving crowds just to touch the cloak of Jesus. She realizes not only the power of Jesus to heal her but the depth of his love and compassion to want to heal her. Her faith is rewarded.

Let us pray for the new Cardinals: may they assist me in my ministry as Bishop of Rome, for the good of all God's people.

We are called to assist the elderly, the sick and the unborn: life must always be protected and loved, from concept...

Torture is a mortal sin! Christian communities must commit themselves to helping victims of torture.

Faith in Jesus Christ frees us from sin, sadness, emptiness, isolation. It is the source of a joy that no one can ever take away. Let us ask our Lord to help us understand that love is service, love means taking care of others.

UPDATING OUR CENSUS: If you are new to our parish or have moved, please contact the office to update your information.

6: A pastor joke: One Sunday at Mass as the priest was giving his homily, a little baby in the front row suddenly started crying loudly. The mother did her best to pacify the child but nothing worked. So finally she got up and started to walk down the aisle to take the baby into the cry room. The priest stopped his preaching, and very compassionately called out to the mother, "That's OK! You don't have to leave. The child isn't disturbing me." The young woman turned around and said, "No, pardon me Father, but you're disturbing my child!"

Moms and Dads know that parenthood is a full-time vocation that demands everything we have and are for the sake of the children who depend on them. Jairus, in today's Gospel, is a model of such dedicated parenthood. As a leader of the synagogue, Jairus is an establishment figure, to be sure - but grasping at one last thread of hope to save his daughter, Jairus' love for her enables him to risk his standing in the community to plead with the controversial rabbi to work one more miracle. Through such complete and unconditional love – like the love of God the Father for us, his sons and daughters – we can lift up the fallen, bring healing to the suffering, and restore life to the dead.

Compassion is not pity. Pity lets us stay at a distance. It is condescending. Compassion is not sympathy. Sympathy is for superiors over inferiors. Compassion is not charity. Charity is for the rich to continue in their status over the poor. Compassion is born of God. It means entering into the other person's problems. It means taking on the burdens of the other. It means standing in the other person's shoes. It is the opposite of professionalism. It is the humanizing way to deal with people. "Just as bread without love can bring war instead of peace, professionalism without compassion will turn forgiveness into a gimmick."

This is a power all the money in the world does not give
This is a power all the knowledge in the world does not give
This is a power all the leaders in the world does not possess
This is a power all the armies in the world can't muster
This is not reserved for the healthy; This is not reserved for the wealthy; This is not reserved for the wise; This is not reserved for the famous.

Today's first reading ponders over the human condition. Surely God takes no pleasure in the extinction of the living, he does not desire the death of human beings. Yes, we all know our limits, we know that all men die and that death entered the world due to sin. But God is stronger than death and those who believe in Him can hope for life, new life in this world and in the next. Our hope arises from the fact that we are made in the image of God who is the giver of life. But do we nurture life, do we collaborate with God or do we expect Him to do everything for us without fulfilling our part?
