Annunciation BVM and St. Hilary Parishes are a community of Catholics under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. We proclaim the Good News of Jesus Christ through worship, service and fellowship, in cooperation with the Bishop of Thunder Bay, in order to bring forth the values of the Kingdom of God.

Jesus appeared to his disciples many times after his resurrection from the dead. On those occasions, they did not always recognize him initially, but when he spoke to them they were able to identify him as ‘the Lord’ (John 21:7). Among the locations where he appeared to them were the garden, the upper room, the road to Emmaus, the hillside and the lakeshore where they had gone fishing. Jesus’ appearance on the lakeshore was particularly important because he tested Peter’s faith by asking him three times: ‘Do you love me?’ (John 21:15). This persistent questioning by Jesus paralleled the three times Peter had denied Jesus in the courtyard of the High Priest’s house on the night before Jesus was crucified.

When Peter answered ‘Yes’ each time to Jesus’ question, he was effectively undoing the damage done to his relationship with Jesus by the earlier denials. Peter had not been a loyal friend to Jesus when Jesus needed him. He revoked his commitment to Jesus and deserted him, choosing instead the cowardly option of denial so that he could not be implicated as one of Jesus’ followers. On the lakeside, after the resurrection, Jesus offered Peter a second chance. Jesus was not interested in the past because he had already forgiven Peter. All that mattered was the sincerity of Peter’s love. Peter’s threefold profession of love was a sign of the new quality of his faith and a renewal of his commitment to Jesus. Significantly, on the basis of Peter’s profession of love, Jesus invited Peter to follow him again and he commissioned Peter to feed and care for his flock. Peter would lead the disciples and the early Church with the assurance of Jesus’ constant presence and guidance. Central to Peter’s mission (and, indeed, the mission of his successors, the popes) was the task of teaching the truths that are essential for salvation.

Lord, we pray for those who are getting married at this time. Remind them that their commitment is for ever, and that at one time in a relationship we are strong and walk where we like, but another time comes when we have to stretch out our hands for help and let the other person take charge of us, even taking us where we would rather not go.

In many countries May is the month of Mary. May the Mother of God accompany us and protect Christians in fighting against the forces of evil. Let us entrust ourselves to her and pray for the Church and for peace in the world. We need a journalism that is free, at the service of truth, goodness, and justice; a journalism that helps build a culture of encounter. May St Joseph, the humble workman of Nazareth, direct us toward Christ, support the sacrifice of those who do good, and intercede for those who have lost their job or who are not successful in finding a job. God searches for you, even if you don't search for Him. God loves you, even if you have forgotten Him. God looks for beauty in you, even if you think you have uselessly squandered all your talents.

Bible Study will be every Monday at Roma Dupuis house at 4 Riverview St. from 6:30 - 7:30 p.m. tel. 887-4472. Come out for some great discussion and fellowship. Everyone is welcome!

“THANK YOU FOR SUPPORTING US, WE WILL SUPPORT YOU!”

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Jesus did not ask Peter this question three times because he was hard of hearing or slow to comprehend Peter's answers! The fact that Jesus asks Peter this question

“Do you love me?” — three times is very significant. First of all, the number three is one of those “good” numbers in the Bible. Numbers are often used in the Bible to make a point and to express meaning. For example, the number 40 represents a significant period of time during which one's faith is tested. The number 12 represents wholeness or fullness. Well, the number three also has some significance. It is on the third day that God saves Jonah from the belly of the whale. Saul, soon to be known as Paul, regains his eyesight on the third day. And of course, Jesus is raised from the dead on the third day.

But Peter denied knowing Jesus three times just before his crucifixion (Matthew 26, Mark 14, Luke 22, John 13). Upon appearing to his disciples after the Resurrection, however, Jesus brings forgiveness, not retribution. To those who deserted him before his crucifixion, Jesus says, “Shalom,” which means “Peace.” To Peter, Jesus offers a three-fold opportunity for forgiveness, as is described in John 21:15-19. Peter is hurt when Jesus asks him a third time, most likely because it made him recall his own three-fold denial of Jesus. This story emphasizes the prominence of Peter among the Apostles and demonstrates how, despite his denial, Peter is restored — reconciled with Jesus, through Jesus' forgiveness of sins

Lord, send us leaders like Jesus who, when people are struggling, do not harangue them, but stand alongside and offer advice so discreetly that the people do not know they are there, but it turns out to be just the right word, and the people once more discover their creativity. Lord, we thank you for people who have forgiven us, not a mean or calculating forgiveness, not harping on the ways in which we wronged them, but forgiving with the forgiveness of Jesus, so that it was like coming back from a hard night's work and seeing some bread there and a charcoal fire with fish cooking on it and the very person we had hurt saying “Come and have breakfast,” and we not having to ask any questions because we knew that everything was forgiven. “The best dreams of humanity are born in the night.”
